

Goodwill Workers Donate Valentine Day Labor

Goodwill Industries employees, who normally have Saturdays off, worked for an objective dear to their hearts Valentine's Day, when they opened their plant on Pacific Coast Highway for the second "Give A Day for Building A" observance.

Proceeds of their labors will go into the construction fund for building A, proposed addition to the new Goodwill rehabilitation center being built in Long Beach.

Goodwill workers have ers participating almost 100 per cent and resulted in $735, which, added to cash gifts, pushed the fund past one third of the goal.

Unusual ways of contributing are being found. Most exciting boost came when Mrs. Nada Peters, who operates a typewriter and performs other office duties from a wheelchair, brought in a doll she had as a child. Placed in the Redondo Beach Goodwill store and sold to a collector, the doll swelled the fund by $35.

Veteran Assemblyman Speaks Out On Gov. Brown's Water Proposal

By Charles Edward Chapel
Member of the Assembly

The Honorable Vernon Kilpatrick, Member of the Assembly, 55th Assembly District, lives in Lynwood. He has been a Member of the Assembly for twenty years (ten terms) and is now beginning his twenty-first year (eleventh term). During all this time he has been recognized by everyone as one of the outstanding Democrats from Los Angeles County. He has been responsible for many excellent laws and several constitutional amendments. He has given me permission to quote his remarks on the California Water Plan (including the Feather River Project) as it was presented in the inaugural address of Governor Edmund G. ("Pat") Brown. This is what Assemblyman Kilpatrick says: "Governor Brown's water address offers little that has not previously been considered... Future pinpointing of generalities by the Governor in his address may bring forth a workable plan which will give assurance of water in Southern California at a reasonable future time."

"THE REQUEST for an appropriation of more millions of dollars without an assurance of water for the south when we need it will not satisfy many of us here, certainly not me. "Our problem has been from the start that of Senate votes, three-fourths of which are in the favored water surplus areas, where rights to recapture water are enacted into law back in 1931. This followed reapportionment of the State Senate.

"Prior to reapportionment (of the State Senate), Los Angeles had nine senators. Today we have one only to protect the interests in the Senate of nearly one-half of California's population.

"IT IS THE contention that

Southern legislators hold fast to the opinion that signed commitments before investing taxpayers' dollars is good and sound business. If the senators of the north who have opposed the favored water surplus areas, where rights to recapture water are enacted into law back in 1931. This followed reapportionment of the State Senate.

"Prior to reapportionment (of the State Senate), Los Angeles had nine senators. Today we have one only to protect the interests in the Senate of nearly one-half of California's population.

"IT IS THE contention that position was in no manner influenced by the fact that the Governor was then a Republican.

Now several of these same Democratic Assemblymen, especially Members from Los Angeles County, who stood with me against the water program under Knight have suddenly decided that almost the identical plan under Governor Brown has great merit and should be enacted. It may be too much to ask for consistency from elected officials of either political party, but consistency is a rare jewel which shines brightly in the crown of any man or woman in public life.

IN EXCHANGE from the money which will come out of our people in taxes, informed citizens of Los Angeles County in particular and Southern California in general want guarantees that we shall obtain (1) Water in adequate quantities; (2) Water within a reasonable time, which probably means less than twelve years from now; and (3) Water at a reasonable price. I could add that we want water of good quality, but that should be taken for granted.

If you live within the 46th Assembly District, write to me at Assembly Chambers, State Capitol, Sacramento 14, and tell me whether you agree or disagree. Regardless of where you live in Los Angeles County write to Senator Richard Richards, Senate Chambers, State Capitol, Sacramento 14, and tell him whether or not you agree with our fine Democratic Assemblyman Vernon Kilpatrick and with me. It is your money and your water we are debating.

1859 AMERICA'S DEPENDABLE FOOD MERCHANT 1959

I HAVE quoted the above remarks from Assemblyman Kilpatrick for several reasons:

- (1) They are true;
- (2) They are not only true but based on the experience of a senior Democratic Member of the Assembly from Los Angeles County who is also one of the most senior men in the whole Legislature;
- (3) They express the ideas I have tried to convey to people for many years; and
- (4) This is evidence that my own attitude toward the current bills on water is not influenced in any way by the fact that the present Governor is a Democrat.

I opposed similar legislation while Goodwin J. Knight was Governor, even though he was a Republican and a close personal friend of mine.

DURING THE general session of 1957 and during the special and budget sessions of 1958, many Democratic Assemblymen from Southern California were brilliant floor leaders against the northern version of water legislation and they assured us that their position was in no manner influenced by the fact that the Governor was then a Republican.

Now several of these same Democratic Assemblymen, especially Members from Los Angeles County, who stood with me against the water program under Knight have suddenly decided that almost the identical plan under Governor Brown has great merit and should be enacted. It may be too much to ask for consistency from elected officials of either political party, but consistency is a rare jewel which shines brightly in the crown of any man or woman in public life.

Bugs Bunny Offers Kite-Flying Hints

With kite-flying season rapidly approaching, Southern California Edison Co. is currently distributing copies of "Bugs Bunny's Kite Fun Book" to Torrance schoolchildren, according to G. L. Blanchard, district manager.

The cartoon-style booklet features Bugs, Cicero, and Elmer Fudd in a story which illustrates ways of making several types of kites. Eight rules for safe kite-flying are woven into the story.
